THE NEW DEPOT PROPOSITION.

Full Synopsis of the Railroad's Proposal.

BETWEEN HIGH AND GARDEN

Is the Proposed Site, with High and Garden Streets to be Permanently Closed at Railroad Crossings to all Travel.

The Louisville and Nashville Railroad Co., through its President, Mr. M. H. Smith, has submitted to the Mayor and Aldermen of Columbia, through the business men's committee, a proposal for the construction of a new passenger station at Columbia, of which the following is a synopsis of the main points to be considered:

The Railroad agrees upon its part to build, between High and South Main streets, a passenger station, with tracks, sheds, platforms, etc., which in extent and arrangement shall provide ample accommodations for the passenger business at this station for many years to come.

The building proper will be about 240 feet long, and located about midway between High and Garden streets. The car sheds will be longer, by perhaps a hundred feet, than the building itself, and the platform will be longer still, extending from near High to near South Main. The building will be two stories, with offices in the second story; first floor will have a ladies waiting room about 30 by 30, well ventilated and furnished, and with toilet rooms connecting. A passage way leads from this to the gentleman's waiting room, which will also have a retiring room, and between this and the colored waiting room there is a vestibule; adjoining this room is the baggage room. The baggage room will be near High street. The ladies waiting room will be near Garden street; the gentleman's waiting room near the middle of the building. The building will be of pressed brick with stone trimmings (we are told, though the proposal does not say so) and will be the handsomest station south of Nashville and north of New Orleans.

The Railroad Company agrees, provided the City will condemn the land and pay for it, to grade, prepare and otherwise improve, a new street 60 feet wide to be located immediately north of the proposed passenger station, running from High to South Main. They further propose, provided the city will condemn and pay for it, to extend, grade, prepare and otherwise improve, Twelfth street from its present eastern terminus to South Main street to a point near the present railroad crossing. The said Railroad Company further propose to construct an underpass of the railroad tracks at South Main street, (alias a tunnel) with a roadway clearance of twelve feet (we presume that means twelve feet high); a wagon way of thirty feet, and side-walks eight feet wide on each side; and so adjust the grade of the street as not to exceed 7 per cent.

In consideration of the Railroad doing the aforesaid things, they ask of the Corporation, first, to permanently close High street at the present railroad crossing (that is, to allow the said Company to fence their property at this point if they so desire—and we understand they will) and allow no passing there at all, either in vehicles or on foot. And that the Corporation will also permanently close and vacate Garden where the Railroad now crosses.

The said Railroad Company proposes to build the said new streets, and approaches, and underpassway, but the city is forever hereafter to keep them in repair; and the city is also required to "take all the necessary steps to provide at the earliest practicable time a sewer to supply adequate sanitary drainage for the proposed passenger station."

And (mark this) that it, (the city) "will pay and satisfy all just and legal claims for damages to property occasioned by, in, or on account of, the construction of the proposed new street; or by, in, or on account of, the proposed extension of Twelfth street; and by, in, or on account of, the construction of or on underpass at South Main street, and will hold the Railroad Company harmless in every respect on account of any such claim for damages occasioned by said work, or any part of it." (Selah!)

(All of the above parentheses are ours.) The Railroad Company proposes to begin said work just as soon as the City shall enter into a contract with them for the same, and to carry forward and complete the same as rapidly as may be consistent with economical and prudent management.

The proposal (of which the foregoing is a fair and full synopsis of all the main

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Students' Club.

The regular meeting of the Students' Club was held with Miss Gibson at the Institute Friday afternoon. A by-law was passed requiring excuses for absence to be written or telephoned to either the president or hostess; members failing to send such excuse are subject to a fine of twenty-five cents.

A well-written paper, showing careful study, was read by Mrs. W. P. Morgan, on "The Roman Woman."

"The Eastern Empire from the Division to the Fall of Constantinople" was treated in a masterly way by Miss Floyd. The salient features of this difficult period were well brought out, and the paper was followed by an interesting discussion. Miss Bryant conducted the general topic, "The Dark Ages;" and the discussion showed both thought and study on the part of the members generally.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Mary Hine Saturday April 13. The following programme will be taken up: Breaking up of the Roman Empire—Mrs. Hazle Padgett.

Origin and Growth of Mohammedanism—Miss Lazarus.

General Topic—Influence of Rome on the Modern Nations of Europe.

The programme for April 20 is as follows: Topic for Study—The Renaissance in religion. Leader, Mrs. Biddle; Scholarship, leader, Mrs. Hastings; Art, leader, Miss Carpenter; Typical Women in the Renaissance—Mrs. Strudwick.

Missionary Tea.

Pleasant thoughts linger in the minds of the ladies of the First Methodist church who were present at the "Missionary Tea," given by the members of the Foreign Missionary Society, at Mrs. G. T. Hughes' Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The double parlors and halls were well filled with visitors, who were graciously received by the kind hostess. The music upon mandolin and guitar by Misses Willie and Mary Ashton; the paper upon Korea read by Mrs. A. P. McFerrin; the pleasant social intercourse, and the delicious three-course luncheon, filled the two hours so well and delightfully spent. This is the second of these missionary teas, which are a successful innovation, in that they bring the members of the church in closer fellowship, and help them to study and become better acquainted with each other, so that they may better know how to serve and enlist their service in the interest of the Master.

The Young Married Woman's Club.

The Young Married Woman's Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. John Carpenter. The first matter taken up was the question as to whether persons who are not members of the Club may be joint hostesses at the Club entertainments. It was decided that, for good reasons, only members of the organization may unite in giving club entertainments, while any social courtesies tendered the Club by non-members would be received with deep appreciation. Other matters of interest were discussed and the resolutions of Mrs. A. J. Nichols, Mrs. Ernest Farrell and Mrs. Henry Fulton, were accepted. Mrs. R. C. Ewing was elected to succeed Mrs. Fulton as secretary.

Card and Cotillion Club.

Miss Mina McLemore gave her annual entertainment to the Card and Cotillion Club Thursday last week. Several ladies besides the club were present, forming in all, seven tables. Spring flowers, violets and buttercups, abounded in rich profusion, and these, with scarlet draperies, artistically arranged, gave to the little home the most attractive and cozy appearance imaginable. The highest score was won by Miss Mary Rains. After the game a most delightful luncheon was served.

Miss Sadie Sheroz entertained a few of her friends Monday evening, complimentary to Mr. F. L. Williams of Memphis, and the occasion was a very enjoyable one socially. During the evening nice refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Cornelia Jones, Ethel Hendley, Rebecca and Annie Williamson; Messrs. F. L. Williams, W. J. Towler, W. B. Wooten, C. J. Akin, Sam Harlan, Bruce Cochran, and Will Howard.

This evening the ladies of the Methodist church at Spring Hill will give a concert in the hall at Broad and Hughes' school. Columbia and Spring Hill talent, assisted by Davis & Sherrill's orchestra of this place, will participate in the entertainment. During the evening refreshments will be served. The proceeds of the concert will be used for the benefit of the organ fund; admission, 15 cents.

A beautiful tea was given Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stephenson in honor of Rev. and Mrs. S. P. Hawes. A dozen guests enjoyed the gracious hospitality, the beautiful flowers, and the exquisite and dainty appointments of the tea. Mrs. Hawes, as hostess, was favored by the hostess with a magnificent bouquet of Marshall Neil roses as a souvenir of the occasion.

Mrs. E. I. Joyce entertained a few friends last Friday night in a most delightful manner, in honor of Miss Chapman, who is the guest of Miss Beckwith. After an exciting game of euchre, in which Miss Mamie Hodge and Mr. Fred Gamble carried off the honors, dainty refreshments were served.

A very enjoyable sociable was given Wednesday evening at the residence of Miss Minnie Padgett on South Garden street. Quite a large crowd was in attendance and all enjoyed themselves most delightfully until a late hour, playing some of the latest games of the season.

An evening of pleasure and profit is promised those who hear Fred Emerson Brooks the poet-humorist, at the Opera House to night.

Miss Irene Kippax entertained a number of her friends last Wednesday evening

ing at her home on North Garden street in honor of her birthday. The house was prettily decorated in pink and white, and a six course luncheon was served. The feature of the evening was progressive anagrams.

The C. B. Club was enjoyably entertained Wednesday evening by Miss Maude Craig at her home on South Main street. An interesting game of progressive anagrams was played, and Miss Minnie Lee Weatherford and Ralph Hunter attained the highest score.

Master Robert Barrow entertained a few of his little friends in a happy manner Monday afternoon at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Church, in celebration of his fourth birthday anniversary.

A Custom Changed.

It has been the custom of Engine and Thresher manufacturers to give Nashville the advantage of the eight-seventh in the Engine and Thresher line, but we find that there is one Company that appreciates their Maury county patrons to the extent of making Columbia their headquarters for the surrounding counties, and have shipped here in care of their local agents, the Roberts Machine & Implement Co., at Nos. 6 and 8 East Seventh street, the largest stock of Engines and Threshers that has ever been seen in Columbia, and you will not be surprised when we say that this appreciation is the result of the Russell people, the builders of the celebrated Russell Engines and Threshers.

Their traveling salesman, W. R. Craig, or better known in Maury county as Bob Craig, will be in the city for some days, and will be pleased to have all his old friends come and see a warehouse 100 feet long full of the finest Engines and Threshers on the market. He will show you up to date machinery, improvements in line with the age in which we live. Traction engines that will do what is claimed for them, engines that will draw themselves and thresher and water wagon up any hill in Maury county that is used as a farm road; engines of economy in water and fuel; engines that are simple and easily operated; engines built on the best boilers ever used in the United States; engines equipped for convenience; engines that will stand the rough roads of Maury county and last for years and years; engines with all improvements known to the best engine builders in the world; boilers that will stand a pressure of hundreds of pounds and tested at 225 pounds; engines and boilers that are safe, reliable and all right; engines that will pull more and last longer than any engine made. We invite all to come and see them.

As to Threshers, the Russell Thresher has been wonderfully improved; will take grain with more ease, will clean grain better and with more capacity than any thresher made. Come and see them and decide for yourself.
